Introduction

This policy statement sets out The Weald Community School and Sixth Form's (the 'School') arrangements for providing students with careers education, information, advice, and guidance (CEIAG).

Publication of this policy complies with, and contributes towards, the School's statutory duties and recommendations under:

- Section 42A, 42B, 45 and 45A of the Education Act 1997
- Section 72 of the Education and Skills Act 2008
- Statutory guidance on careers guidance in schools updated by the Department for Education in September 2022¹

Commitment

As noted by the Department for Education¹:

“High quality careers education and guidance in school or college is critical to young people’s futures. It helps to prepare them for the workplace by providing a clear understanding of the world of work including the routes to jobs and careers that they might find engaging and rewarding. It supports them to acquire the self-development and career management skills they need to achieve positive employment destinations. This helps students to choose their pathways, improve their life opportunities and contribute to a productive and successful economy.”

For these reasons, The Weald Community School and Sixth Form is committed to following the Department of Education's Careers Strategy, published in 2017², and its accompanying statutory guidance for schools and guidance for sixth form colleges¹. The School is also committed to working towards the renewal of its Quality in Careers Standard award.

Aims

The Weald Community School and Sixth Form aims to enable all students to make well-informed and realistic decisions about their next steps after secondary and further education so that they can successfully transition into the world of work and achieve their full potential.

To achieve this vision, we will deliver a planned, progressive, and stable careers programme that is:

- Embedded within the wider school curriculum
- Mapped to the Gatsby Benchmarks of good careers guidance
- Aligned to the Career Development Institute's (CDI) Career Development Framework learning aims³

Statutory Requirements

As per statutory guidance and guidance published by the Department for Education in September 2022¹, the School has a duty to:

- Act impartially and in the best interests of the student; this includes:
 - Avoiding bias towards any particular education provider, study pathway, or work option and the promotion of higher education study as a better or more favourable route than others.
 - Informing students when evidence suggests that a course they are considering may lead to poor career outcomes.
- Ensure students have access to a wide range of up-to-date guidance and reference materials relating to careers education and career opportunities.
- Provide students with independent careers guidance, using the Gatsby Benchmarks of good careers guidance as a framework.
- Make sure students are aware of the raising participation age requirements and what it means for them, including the options available to them.
- Publish a policy statement on provider access.
- Ensure that there are opportunities for providers to access Year 8 - 13 students for the purposes of informing them of the full range education and training options available (including technical and apprenticeship pathways) in accordance with criteria set out in section 45A of the Education Act 1997 as amended by the Skills and Post-16 Education Act 2022.

- Provide information to local authorities for them to deliver their relevant duties, including notifying them whenever a 16-or 17-year-old leaves an education or training programme before completion.

The School's Governing Body plays an important role in ensuring that the School meets these statutory duties alongside the publication of an up to date CEIAG policy on the School's website.

The Weald Community School and Sixth Form has appointed a designated careers lead to manage, monitor, and evaluate the delivery of the careers programme alongside investigate areas for future development. This is:

The delivery of a high-quality careers programme that meets the needs of all students is dependent on a whole-school approach (as opposed to being the sole responsibility of the designated careers lead). Several staff across The Weald Community School and Sixth Form, including those with teaching, pastoral, and administrative responsibilities, support the designated careers lead in the achievement of this. Further details are available via the School's published careers programme, which can be accessed on the careers section of the School's website (click here).

Additionally, the designated careers lead works with a range of external partners to support delivery of the School's careers programme; this includes, but is not limited to, Coast to Capital LEP, Sussex Council of Training Providers (SCTP), Horsham District Council, and West Sussex County Council. They are also generating partnerships with local employees, employers, and businesses, which we proudly promote on the careers section of the School's website (click here).

Those interested in partnership-working with the School for the purposes of delivering CEIAG are encouraged to join the School's careers mailing list (click here) so that they can receive invitations from the designated careers lead or a delegated member of School staff about our upcoming careers programme activities, such as our annual careers fair.

Staff Development

Staff training needs are identified as part of the annual evaluation process of the School's careers programme. The School will endeavour to meet training needs within a reasonable period of time.

Resources

Funding for the School's careers programme is allocated during annual budget planning processes and is considered within the context of whole-school priorities. The designated careers lead is responsible for the effective deployment of allocated resources.
