Dear Parent/Carer,

This half term, Year 8 students will be studying 'Coraline' by Neil Gaiman during their English lessons. This text will also be examined at the end of the year as part of the Year 8 exams. As our ability to lend resources to students this year is limited, we are asking that students are equipped with their own copy of the text to use both in and outside of class to support their study.

One edition which is quite reasonably priced and we would recommend purchasing is:

'Coraline' by Neil Gaiman

This can be purchased from a range of bookstores both online and in store. The copy could be either a new or previously owned book and an alternative edition of the full text other than the one stated above would also be suitable for students to use.

We are aiming to start reading the novel within the next two weeks.

Should the cost of purchasing the text be of concern at this time, please don't hesitate to get in contact with us.

Many thanks for your continued support.

Yours faithfully,

Jemma Rigby
Director of English
